Executive Summary

ASK Bagbin Education Fund is a non-profit education foundation established to address persistent educational inequalities in Ghana. The Foundation responds to systemic barriers that limit access to education, reduce school completion rates, and undermine learning outcomes particularly among girls, children from low-income households, and learners in rural and underserved communities.

Guided by national education priorities and aligned with Sustainable Development Goal 4 (Quality Education), the Foundation delivers targeted interventions including scholarships and sponsorships, learning support, advocacy for child protection and school retention, and investments in educational infrastructure.

Through strong governance, accountability, and evidence-based programming, the ASK Bagbin Education Fund seeks to break intergenerational cycles of poverty and contribute to human capital development, social equity and national progress.

Foundation Overview

About the Foundation

The ASK Bagbin Education Fund is dedicated to advancing inclusive and equitable education in Ghana. The Foundation works to remove financial, social, and structural barriers to education by supporting vulnerable learners, strengthening community engagement, and collaborating with government institutions, development partners, and the private sector. Our work focuses on expanding access to education, improving learning environments, promoting gender equity, and ensuring that no child is left behind due to poverty, geography, or social disadvantage. The Foundation operates with a strong commitment to transparency, accountability, and long-term sustainability.

OUR VISION

A future where Ghana becomes a model of educational opportunity, in which every child regardless of background or circumstance has access to quality education, completes school, and is empowered with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to contribute meaningfully to a just, prosperous, and sustainable society.

OUR MISSION

To advance inclusive and equitable education across Ghana by removing barriers to learning, providing scholarships and essential resources to vulnerable children, investing in safe and conducive learning environments, and advocating for policies and community actions that promote school retention, gender equity, and quality learning outcomes.

Objectives of the Foundation

ASK Bagbin Education Fund is incorporated under the Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992) and the liability of its members is limited by guarantee.

Objectives of the Foundation:

Supply free educational materials to less privileged children and institutions.

Offer Scholarship and sponsorship to needy but brilliant learners.

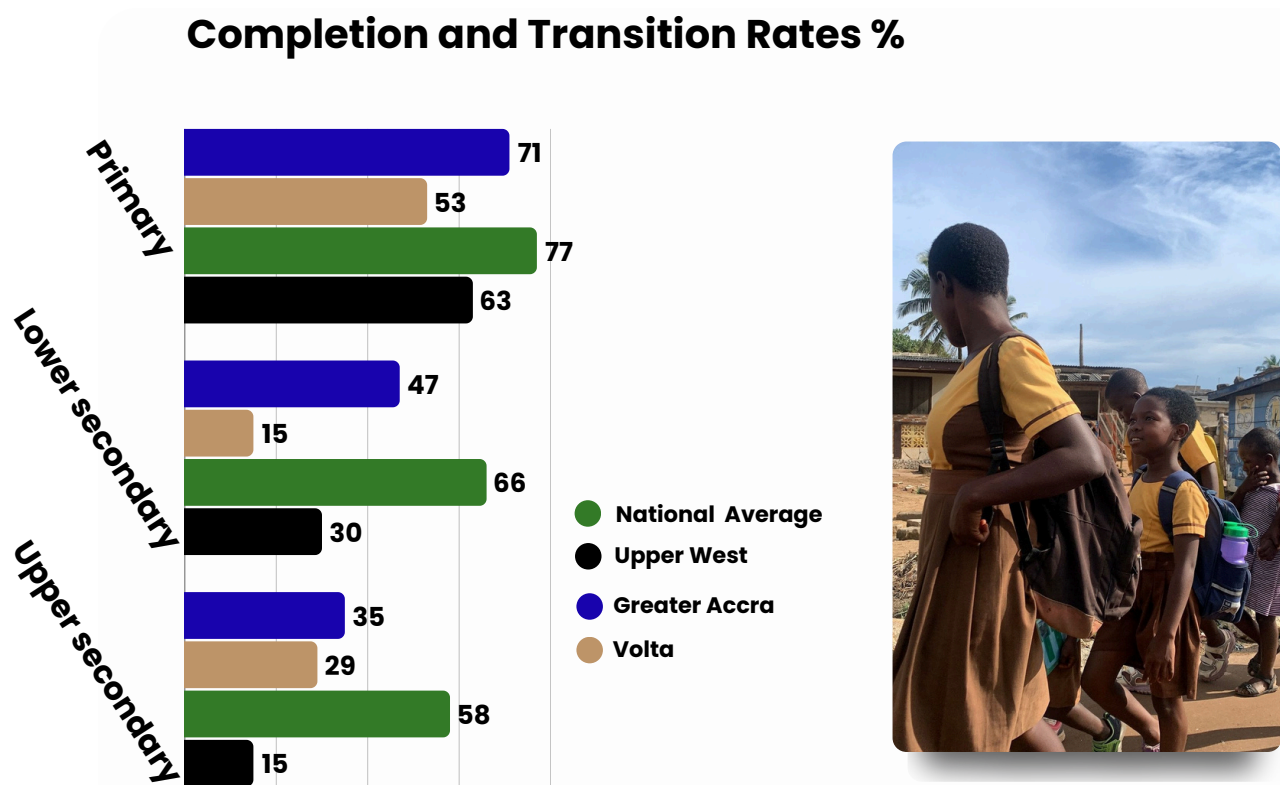

Support in building education infrastructures in underserved communities.

Advocacy in Education.

Strategic Rationale

The ASK Bagbin Education Fund grounds its interventions in national education data, peer-reviewed research, and official government reports. While education access has improved in Ghana over the past two decades, significant disparities persist across regions, income groups, and gender. The Foundation’s programming is therefore informed by evidence demonstrating structural inequities in school completion, learning outcomes, and gender participation particularly in rural and economically disadvantaged communities.

Source: UNICEF Ghana Education Fact Sheets 2020 (MICS-EAGLE, Ministry of Education)

National education statistics reveal a steady decline in completion rates as learners transition from primary to secondary education. While this trend affects Ghana broadly, disparities are more pronounced in rural and northern communities.

Learners in economically disadvantaged regions are significantly less likely to complete lower and upper secondary education compared to those in urban centres.

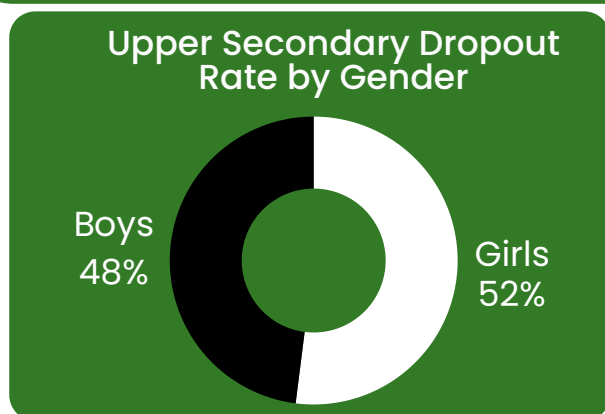

Gender Disparities

Despite progress toward gender parity at basic levels, disparities remain evident at critical transition stages.

Gender responsive interventions are essential to safeguard educational progression, protect adolescent girls, and prevent long-term socio-economic exclusion.

Key findings include:

- 1 Boys experience higher dropout rates at primary and lower secondary levels, often linked to early labour participation.
- 2 Girls account for approximately 52% of upper secondary dropouts nationally.
- 3 Early marriage and adolescent pregnancy remain major contributors to female school discontinuation, particularly in rural communities.
- 4 Rural early marriage prevalence is nearly twice that of urban southern regions.

Foundational Learning Outcomes

Foundational literacy and numeracy outcomes remain critically low among learners from rural and low-income households.

Sources: UNICEF Early Grade Reading and Mathematics Assessment (EGRA/EGMA, 2021); Luminos Fund Endline Evaluation Report (2024).

The data highlights significant gaps in foundational literacy and numeracy among Grade 3 learners. Rural communities perform below national averages, while poverty-affected areas record the lowest outcomes. These disparities demonstrate how geographic location and socio-economic conditions strongly influence early learning achievement.

Wealth and Education Outcomes

Sources: Ghana Statistical Service – Child Labour Report (2024); UNICEF Ghana Education Fact Sheets (2020); World Bank Poverty & Equity Brief (2025).

- Only 9% of children from poorest households complete upper secondary
- 71% of children from richest households complete upper secondary
- 30% of children aged 5-17 engaged in child labour

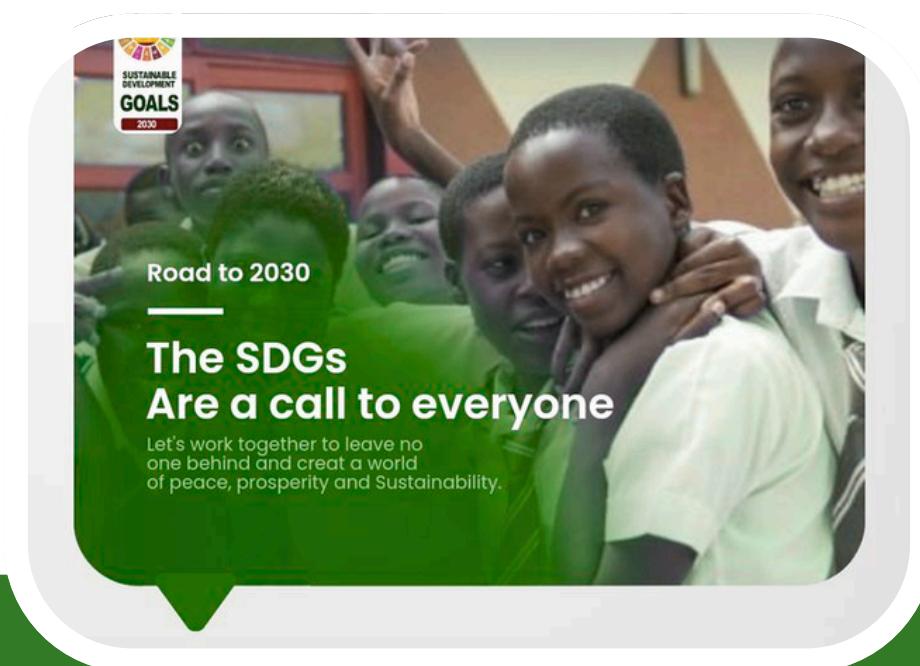

Poverty remains one of the strongest predictors of educational discontinuation in Ghana. Peer-reviewed research highlights that household labour demands, low income levels and limited access to social services significantly influence dropout rates in rural districts. This calls for targeted financial support and community level interventions.
